ABOUT ALM-CS

ALM-CS has a well defined purpose

The Australian Land Management Certification System (ALM-CS) was developed by landholders to improve environmental outcomes in ways that enable the achievements of landholders and their support agencies to be recognised and rewarded.

ALM-CS is supported by the ALM Group, a not-for-profit organisation comprised of landholders from most States.

ALM-CS delivers

ALM-CS is effective, delivering environmental outcomes and enabling recognition.

ALM-CS is user friendly, landholders reporting very favourably on its ease of adoption and recommending it to other landholders.

ALM-CS is credible, both nationally and internationally.

ALM-CS is for all landholders

Using specially designed software, ALM-CS can be applied equally well across all land uses and land based industries.

ALM-CS moves environmental management to a new exciting plane. Gone are the complexities and time consuming paper based systems.

No other nationally applicable system across all industries and enterprises goes anywhere near to matching ALM-CS on effectiveness, user-friendliness and credibility.

ALM-CS is the future – be part of it.
